DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The specification is objected to as failing to provide proper antecedent basis for the claimed subject matter. See 37 CFR 1.75(d)(1) and MPEP § 608.01(o). Correction of the following is required: "Pressure" for securing said side ends is provided by said paper retention caps.

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the "pressure for securing said side ends..." as set forth in Claim 1, lines 6-7 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the examiner does not accept the changes, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 is vague and indefinite. On lines 8-9, the phrase “no additional material is secured about said paper retention caps to provide said pressure” is unclear. What structure of the paper roll apparatus is being claimed by this limitation?

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kewin (U.S. Patent No. 4,874,139) in view of Taylor et al (U.S. Patent No. 1,716,249) and Traver (U.S. Patent No. 2,783,878).

With respect to Claims 1-6, Kewin, Figures 1-2, teaches a paper roll apparatus comprising a paper-winding core 12 comprising a paper-winding region. Taylor et al, Figures 1-8, teach a pair of paper retention caps 13 each comprising a securing lip for securing side ends of a paper roll wound about said paper winding region; at least one of said paper retention caps slides over an outer end of said paper winding core; at least one of said paper retention caps slides over an outer end of said paper winding core and is retained by said paper winding core with its securing lip securing said side ends of said paper roll; said paper roll wound around said paper winding region, with said side ends of said paper roll secured by said securing lips.

Traver, Figures 1-4, teaches pressure for securing said side ends provided by caps 13,14. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide Kewin with a pair of retention caps, as taught by Taylor et al, for the purpose of protecting the rolls while they are being transported thereby minimizing chaffing. It would have further been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide Kewin in view of Taylor with "pressure", as taught by Traver, for the purpose of eliminating the number of elements necessary to secure the caps.

With respect to Claims 7-9, the method described in these claims would inherently result from the use of paper roll apparatus of Kewin in view of Taylor et al and Traver as advanced above.

Conclusion

The new grounds of rejection were necessitated by applicant's amendment, e.g., the requirement for "pressure for securing...", Claim 1, lines 6-9.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
